

Can you handle the pressure?

4-5 October 2017

First event organized by DBIT INKLINGS under LITSOC

Theme of Program: In this event the participants had to write on the topic given to them in a stipulated amount of time while being disturbed by music, dance, jokes etc. The main aim of this activity was to hinder the writers attention.

Registration Details: Registration were open a week prior to the event and we received a good response.

Round-1:The event took place on 4th October on 3rd floor HUB at 5:30pm. We had a total of 58 students participating in the event from Eng, BMS, BMM and IT streams. The topic was 'A shade of yellow'. It could be written in English or Marathi. The time limit was 20 minutes. The distraction for the first round was background music. The write ups were assessed and 10 people were selected for Round 2. Tushar Shinde won the prize for the Marathi group. Vishal sir Club in charge was present for this round.

Round 2: That was on 5th October. This time the topic was 'Infinity' and time allotted was 25mins. For this round we had people from the Dance and Drama club. The level of distraction was high as compared to the 1st Round. The write ups were evaluated and results were declared on the same day. The event ended with a photo and prize distribution done by Jeffrey Ma'am and Renjit Sir.

Overall, the event was a huge success as all the members had put in good effort and ample time towards it. It kindled the writing spirit and brought light to the DBIT INKLING.
